

ACCIDENTS AT WORK

Have you suffered an accident at work? Have you witnessed an accident at work?

In either case, notify your supervisor immediately. The supervisor will notify the Health and Safety Department and secure the scene (if necessary).

If you witness an incident, it is essential that you provide assistance to the injured person

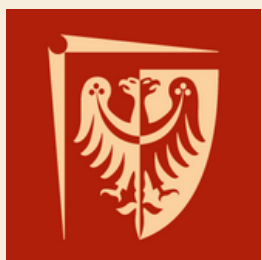

If you have had an accident and your health permits it, go to the Emergency Room or call 112. Do not drive alone - ask your colleagues for help.

A member of the Health and Safety Department will contact you to establish the circumstances of the accident and draw up post-accident documentation.
